TRAINING PILOTING

We are currently working on piloting the online training course. Each piloting country is testing the course with English teachers and school heads who will provide comments and suggestions for the training to improve the final product.

WORKSHOPS FOR PRIMARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS

In order to disseminate the online training course, the partners are going to organize two training courses where they will showcase the course to teachers and school heads. The intention of the workshops will be to encourage schools to use the platform to promote the implementation of trauma-informed protocols for migrant and refugee children.
